SALE PENDING! PRICE REDUCED!! Starvation Ridge - Recreation abounds on this mountain retreat with deep canyons, cliffs, and open meadows in close proximity to the John Day River. This secluded hunting and recreational retreat near Service Creek features craggy rock formations and panoramic views of the surrounding area with room for small airstrip. Two seasonal creeks flow through a portion of this high desert holding with resident big horn sheep and wildlife galore. Abundant stands of tree covered hillsides with juniper, sage and native grasses. Up to four Deer and Elk LOP tags can be applied for in Fossil Unit. This holding offers diverse topography for horseback riding, hunting, hiking, rockhounding and wildlife viewing.

This would be a great group investment as there are four contiguous tax lots offering potential for multiple dwellings with zoning approvals. There are 3 wells, septic, a tiny hunting hut and 24x48 metal enclosed shop with concrete floors plumbed for bathroom. Power is close to boundary line with potential of solar power.

This off grid sanctuary also has potential to be put in farm deferral per county approvals. There are open range fields for dryland crops, several undeveloped springs and dirt road access. The property borders private lands and ranges from 2300 to 3000 ft. elevation.

Take a short drive from here to the John Day River near Service Creek for some of the finest fishing and rafting in the state. This unique package offers privacy and natural beauty with a breathtaking backdrop of the mountains and valley all behind a locked gate. Must see to appreciate!

Located between Fossil and Spray 2.5 mi. E of Service Creek & 3 mi. N of Hwy 19 on Alder Creek Rd.

Zoned EFU/MUR. Taxes for 2021 were $4555. Buyers can contact Wheeler County Assessor for possible tax deferral programs and Wheeler County Planning Dept. for information on dwelling approvals.
